So I am trying to inject a plugin in my gulp build and only partially succeed. I have 2 build tasks, the first which injects the plugin, and the second which should also run the built plugin but it doesn't. First task: gulp.task('plugin', function(done) { console.log('plugin task ran'); gulp.src([srcPath]) .pipe(new (require('gulp-plugin-asset-library'))({ name:'myPlugin', version: '0.0.0' })) .pipe(done); }); The second task: var src = 'plugin/src/plugin.js'; gulp.src(src, { buffer: true }) The first task seems to work ok, it injects the library into the browser and it's console.log() shows it, but the second task which should also run the injected task seems to fail. The project is hosted on github and all the source files are shown in the plugin folder 82157476af
